DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Lim et al (6574599).

As per claims 1,4,7 Lim et al (6574599) teaches a communication apparatus, method, and storage medium (col. 3 line 65 – col. 4 line 5) with word generating means for recognizing a voice and generating a first word and a second word, which correspond to said voice (as recognizing an action word and a regular word -- col. 4 lines 7-17, with the data entered in the call table);

“a word collating means.....first word” as collating the words into a call table (col. 4 lines 5-25; and Fig. 7)

“a program activating means.....predetermined word” as action word used to control an action from the menu (col. 4 lines 7-12; col. 16 lines 50-55)

Art Unit: 2655

"a coommunication destination setting means....activating means" as using the action word to specify a communication destination, for example, placing a call (col. 15 lines 23-60)

As per claims 2,3,5,6,8,9 Lim et al (6574599) teaches the use of the command system in an email environment and associated protocols (col. 12 lines 35-43).
